Report on Bert Rettig and Another Friend

If you've wondered where Bert Rettig disappeared to after selling the Diamond Cafeteria I might advise you he has returned to his original vocation—teaching aviation to potential young pilots—at Shreveport's Downtown Airport.

I got this information from two sources. Last week I talked to Mrs. Rettig on the street in Hope. She said they are living in Shreveport but come home on occasion to handle a catering assignment at the Heritage House which they still maintain here.

And then, this morning, I received from an old friend a tear-sheet from the Shreveport Journal (Jan. 29) showing a three-column photograph of Bert and a young man he had just okayed as a pilot at the Downtown Airport. Bert is 68 and the younger, Tom Montgomery, 17. The photo shows them working on an E6B navigational computer.

The old friend who mailed me the Journal copy is L. C. Denney, 3529 Elon St., Shreveport, who used to be locomotive engineer on the freight run between Hope and Shreveport. Mr. Denney is a well-known outdoorsman. One February day when we were cruising on Narrows Lake he spotted for me a female bald eagle—the first I ever saw.

I reported the sighting to the Arkansas Game & Fish Commission, but was advised that bald eagles about this time of year regularly come down from northeast Arkansas to feed on shad in our southwestern lake. There is a seasonal "shad kill" just before Spring—and every eagle in Arkansas takes advantage of this mystery of nature.

Groundhog Sees Shadow But Not Here

PUNKSUTAWNEY, Pa. (AP) — Punksutawney Phil, the famed weather forecasting groundhog, inched his way from his burrow on Gobbler's Knob today, saw his shadow and scooted back inside. That meant six more weeks of winter, weather folk say.

But Phil's "wife" almost stole the show. As flashbulbs popped and about 50 people cheered Phil onward, a dainty female groundhog popped from the hole.

Some observers questioned whether Phil actually saw his shadow or was perturbed by the upstaging. The Punksutawney Groundhog Club, however, claimed it was the shadow that made Phil do an about-face. Members of the club, which has held the annual vigil on the hill for 87 years, tried to ignore the other groundhog.

"I'd like you to know that no lady has been involved in the ceremony for high under 90 years—and we aren't about to change it now," club President Sam Light said.

Actually, the club had brought both groundhogs, both somewhat domesticated—on stage. After Phil's brief appearance—at 7:29.30 a.m.—everybody went to the Punksutawney Country Club for pancakes and sausage, the beginning of a day of levity and festivity.

The club had predicted Phil would do just what he did—see his shadow.

Says Americans Backed JFK

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Former Secretary of State Dean Rusk says Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev backed away from the 1962 Cuban missile crisis because he was convinced President John F. Kennedy had a unified America behind him.

In a speech to a civic group Monday, Rusk, now a professor of international law at the University of Georgia, said speaking "with an uncertain voice in times of crises" is a luxury presidents cannot afford.

Egypt, Israel Troops Set for Ceasefire End

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Israel and Egyptian defenses along the Suez Canal were reported bristling with reinforcements in preparation for the expiration of the six-month-old cease-fire at midnight Friday.

Israeli observers said Egypt has moved up troop reinforcements, thousands of mortars and heavy artillery pieces, hundreds of tanks, anti-aircraft batteries and other advanced equipment.

The Egyptians also have built what appear to be ramps leading into the canal, presumably for use by amphibious forces attempting to cross the canal by boat or pontoon bridge, Israeli newspapers report.

The Israelis are less specific about their own preparations, but they say their fortifications can withstand attack from any weapon in the Egyptian armory.

Egypt has said repeatedly it will not agree to another extension of the cease-fire unless U.N. envoy Gunnar V. Jarring reports progress in the peace talks which he has been holding with representatives of Egypt, Israel and Jordan at U.N. headquarters in New York. Jarring has made no such report, and the talks, while continuing, appear to be in the exploratory stage.

Despite Egypt's insistence that it won't extend the cease-fire under present conditions, observers in Beirut expect the truce to continue on a de facto basis. Israel has already said that it will not fire first.

However, the Egyptian government has undertaken campaign to convince the world and its people that hostilities may resume along the canal next month.

Egypt's Higher Defense Council met today in Cairo to evaluate the military situation.

Wants Money in Bank Account

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Alexander Solzhenitsyn, winner of the $80,000 Nobel Prize for literature for 1970, has asked that the money be placed in a bank account, Dr. Karl Ragnar Gierow, secretary of the Nobel Academy, says.

Solzhenitsyn, in official disfavor with Moscow because of his criticisms of the Soviet government, canceled a trip to Sweden to pick up the prize last December. He said he feared he would not be permitted to return to his homeland.

Older Married Folks Should Consider the Bright Side of Looks

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

Whenever a wife reads that people who are married a long time begin to resemble each other, she looks at her husband and feels depressed the rest of the day. She never considers the bright side—that he might begin to look like her, and not she like him.

I would never want to be mayor of a town that didn't allow hurdy gurdies. Their cheerful sounds enliven the dull atmosphere of a city. One of the depressing things about Manhattan is that it has so many street beggars and so few strolling street musicians.

A civilization is tinged with second-rateness when a large percentage of its population adheres to false beliefs, such as astrology or spiritualism. But so many people today are studying astrological data, one suspects our times have become third rate. "Of course, I don't really believe this stuff," many say. But they do.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House was scheduled to consider today whether to agree to Senate amendments to Gov. Dale Bumpers' bill to reorganize state government.

The House made the decision to consider the amendments after taking up most of its day Monday arguing over what it should do. There was an unsuccessful attempt to sidetrack the bill into the State Agencies Committee while sponsors failed to persuade the House to immediately consider the amendments Monday.

Meanwhile, the Senate approved a bill that would prohibit parole for any convict whose death sentence had been commuted. The bill would apply only to future commutations and was inspired by then-Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's commutation last December of 15 death sentences.

In other action, the Senate: —Approved 31-1 the consumer protection bill drafted by Atty. Gen. Ray H. Thornton Jr. and sponsored by the administration.

—Passed 24-7 a public employees retirement bill that would increase legislators' retirement benefits and allow elected state constitutional officers to retire at full salary.

Consideration of the reorganization bill consumed more than 2½ hours of the House's time

Temperatures Expected to Rise Slowly

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Temperatures in Arkansas are expected to continue to rise slowly through Wednesday.

Also, scattered light rain and showers were expected to break out over the western portion of the state by this afternoon and spread eastward.

Highs Monday reached the upper 20s and low 30s in the extreme northern portion of the state but climbed into the upper 30s and low 40s in the southern portion. Highs today were forecast in the 40s north-east to low 50s southwest. Highs Wednesday should be in the upper 40s to 50s northeast and 60s southwest.

Temperatures early today ranged from the mid to high 20s in the north to the low and mid 30s in the extreme southwest. Lows tonight should be mostly in the low 40s.

Overnight lows include Fayetteville 27, Harrison 24, Jonesboro 28, Pine Bluff 26, Texarkana 33, El Dorado 29, Memphis 26, Little Rock 25 and Fort Smith 26.

White Collar Workers Strike Chrysler

By STEPHEN H. WILDSTROM
Associated Press Writer
DETROIT (AP) — Some 10,000 white collar workers went on strike today against the Chrysler Corp., when negotiators failed to reach agreement on a new labor contract after an all-night session.

A United Auto Workers spokesman said, "We have no settlement. The strike is on."

The marathon negotiations, which began at 9 a.m. Monday, continued past the 10 a.m. strike deadline, however.

As the time for the walkout arrived, workers began streaming off the job in near-zero weather at the company's Highland Park, Mich., plant, where most of the salaried employees work.

The strike could shut down the company "in four to five days... within a week," said a Chrysler spokesman.

Chrysler and the union agreed Jan. 19 on a new three-year contract for 110,000 UAW production workers and have been meeting since then to get a contract for the white collar employees, 80 per cent of whom are in the Detroit metropolitan area.

Astronauts Confident of Landing

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 14's astronauts, hurtled on course today toward a rendezvous with the moon, confident their spaceship docking system will not bar a landing in rugged lunar highlands.

On the remote chance the two ships could not link after their moon exploration, astronauts Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Edgar D. Mitchell were prepared to walk in space from the lunar module back to the command vessel for the return trip home.

Apollo 14 shifted to an on-target course Monday night when command module pilot Stuart A. Roosa fired up the big main engine for the first time.

The 10-second burst maneuvered the spacecraft off a path that would have approached to within 2,420 miles of the moon. Now it will zip within 69 miles at 2:41 a.m. EST Thursday and Roosa once again will trigger the engine to fire into an orbit ranging from 69 to 195 miles above the surface.

Later Thursday the astronauts will drop the low point of the lunar orbit to an altitude of 11.5 miles before Shepard and Mitchell separate the lunar lander Antares for a Friday morning descent to the hilly terrain known as Fra Mauro on the eastern fringe of the dry Ocean of Storms.

"That was a mighty good burn there," Roosa exclaimed after the firing, Monday.

The three astronauts spent a quiet second day in space, monitoring systems and relaxing for the big days ahead.

The suspense over whether Shepard and Mitchell would be able to land ended Monday when Apollo mission director Chester Lee declared, "We're proceeding with every intention of making lunar landing."

Wants Pay From American Party

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Circuit Judge Warren W. Wood took under advisement Monday a lawsuit by Mrs. Connie Alber, former executive secretary of the American party of Arkansas, for $5,500 she alleges the AIP owes her for services.

Mrs. Alber said she held the job from December 1968 to April 1970 and said she was to be paid $100 a week but received only $400 during the period.

Wood heard testimony in the case Monday and gave attorneys 10 days in which to submit briefs.

5,000 Vietnam Paratroopers Jump Into Laos

TOKYO (AP) — Kyodo News Service reported today from Saigon that an estimated 4,000 to 5,000 South Vietnamese paratroopers, supported by U.S. planes and helicopters, jumped into southern Laos before dawn Monday in an attempt to cut North Vietnamese supply routes.

The dispatch said the South Vietnamese would be operating for a week or 10 days on the Bolovens plateau about 95 to 125 miles south of Khe Sanh.

Well informed sources in Saigon said that although the U.S. Air Force was assisting in the operation, no U.S. ground troops were participating, Kyodo said.

The dispatch said between 7,000 and 20,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops were reported to have infiltrated into southern Laos recently.

New Postal Rates Hit All Classes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. Postal Service announced today plans to raise virtually all classes of postage, including two cents for first-class mail and one cent for airmail.

The new rates would be effective, on a temporary basis, the second week in May.

Newspaper and magazine rates would be doubled and those for bulk mailing by one-third. The increased rates, subject to permanent approval by an independent five-member postal rate commission, would bring in additional revenues of $1.45 billion during the year beginning July 1.

The proposed new rates would put the postal service on "a sound financial basis" for the first time in decades, Asst. Postmaster Gen. James W. Hargrove said.

First-class stamps would go from six to eight cents and airmail stamps from 10 to 11 cents under the proposal. The postal Board of Governors formally submitted the proposal to the rate commission Monday.

The increases in second and third-class rates would be spread over a five-year period, with one-fifth of the proposed increase becoming effective each year.

U.S. officials in Washington and Saigon have talked recently of a major increase in infiltration of North Vietnamese forces into Laos, Cambodia and the northwestern sector of South Vietnam.

U.S. Admits Big Laotian Push Planned

By LAWRENCE L. KNUTSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George D. Aiken says State Department officials have told him of a buildup of American and South Vietnamese forces near the Laotian border preparing for an important allied operation.

Kyodo News Service of Japan reported early today from Saigon that an estimated 4,000 to 5,000 South Vietnamese paratroopers supported by U.S. planes and helicopters moved into Laos Monday. The dispatch said no U.S. ground troops were participating in the operation, designed to cut North Vietnamese supply routes.

(The dispatch also said between 7,000 and 20,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops were reported to have infiltrated into southern Laos recently.)

"The administration has given us to understand they're preparing for a massive attack from the north," Aiken said Monday. The allied troops, the Vermont Republican added, are gearing "for a large operation we might be undertaking."

Aiken, ranking Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he was assured by the State Department a congressional ban against sending U.S. ground-combat troops into Laos would be respected, and that no American soldier would be allowed to cross the border.

"I think that was the purpose of the call, to assure me," he said in telling of the State Department report which he said came Friday.

The State Department and Pentagon have refused to discuss rumors of an imminent allied incursion into Laos. But one State Department source said flatly any final decision on launching the operation will be made by President Nixon and no U.S. ground troops will enter Laos.

Aiken said he was briefed by the State Department Friday, but has been told nothing since about the operation because of what he called "the tightest censorship since World War II."

U.S. officials in Washington and Saigon have talked recently of a major increase in infiltration of North Vietnamese forces into Laos, Cambodia and the northwestern sector of South Vietnam.

Planes Rip Supply Lines of Enemy

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. warplanes today attacked border crossing points scattered along nearly 100 miles of the Ho Chi Minh trail through southern Laos.

In the ground war, South Vietnamese forces reported killing 100 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in seven clashes. The South Vietnamese said there were 45 enemy attacks on South Vietnamese military units and civilians in the past 24 hours, the highest number since last September.

Keeping up the most sustained aerial campaign of the war in an attempt to check major North Vietnamese units reported moving south, waves of B52 bombers flew 65 miles northwest of the demilitarized zone to pound supply exits from the Mu Gia Pass.

The eight-jet Stratofortresses also dropped tons of bombs on the Ban Karai Pass leading out of North Vietnam 35 miles to the south. Other B52s and smaller fighter-bombers hit at entry points into South Vietnam 30 miles south of the DMZ.

Informed sources said that since the big U.S. air campaign began last October, the B52s had flown about 3,500 sorties against the Ho Chi Minh trail, dropping a total of more than 100,000 tons of bombs on the network of jungle roads, trails and supply dumps.

In addition, Air Force, Navy and Marine fighter-bombers have been flying between 300 and 400 sorties a day against the trail.

The ground clashes reported by the South Vietnamese ranged from the Mekong Delta to the central highlands, and a spokesman said three South Vietnamese troops were killed and 15 wounded.

South Vietnamese headquarters said there were 18 rocket and mortar attacks in the past 24 hours.

Says Leary, Wife Driven Crazy by LSD

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — A tape recording attributed to Eldridge Cleaver says Black Panthers have placed Dr. Timothy Leary and his wife in protective custody in Algeria because "LSD has destroyed their ability to make judgments."

The tape, broadcast Monday over the Pacifica Foundation's station KPFA-FM, said the Panthers have withdrawn support from the "psychedelic movement," of which Leary once was leader.

"His mind has been blown by acid," the tape said.

Cleaver is the self-exiled Panther minister of information. Leary, who escaped from a California prison where he was serving a drug possession sentence, arrived in Algeria with his wife last September and proclaimed common cause with the black militant group.

The tape recording said Leary and his wife Rosemary were put under "revolutionary" arrest between Jan. 9 and 13, then placed under "Panther protection" at a villa where the couple lived in exile.

The tape said, "If you think that by turning in, turning on and dropping out that you're improving society, you're wrong. You're destroying your own brain and strengthening the enemy. They want robots."

Hard to Cut Draft Calls, Laird Says

By JAMES PHILLIPS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird told a hostile Senate Armed Services Committee today that reducing draft calls to zero by mid-1973 would be difficult. But he said the goal could be met with the support of Congress and the public.

Laird, urging extension of induction authority—as proposed by President Nixon—for two years beyond its present June 30 expiration date, said the task of achieving an all-volunteer Army "is a most difficult one."

"But I believe we can meet that goal," he said, "if we in the Defense Department vigorously pursue the program we have formulated to reduce draft calls to zero, if the Congress supports this program by appropriate legislative action, and if the general public gives support by a positive attitude toward military service."

In opening the hearing on Selective Service legislation, Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., said "the volunteer objective to me is a flight from reality unless the size of the armed forces is to be reduced in years ahead far below any figures I consider our minimum requirements."

He added he did not oppose the volunteer concept in principle but that national security demanded continued induction of servicemen.

Laird noted 163,500 men were inducted in 1970, the smallest draft call since 1964. "We are on the way to the goal of zero draft calls," Laird said.

For the 1972 fiscal year he said the manpower strength of U.S. armed forces would be approximately 2½ million, requiring 528,000 new enlisted personnel and 43,000 new officers.

"Without the draft," Laird said, "we believe that all services would experience manpower shortages, but the Army would suffer most." In addition, he said, loss of the draft during the next two years would hurt enlistments in the reserve forces.

Besides during a two-year extension of the draft law, Laird said it was very important for Congress to authorize roughly $1 billion in pay increases for enlisted personnel in the lower grades.

Litigation Takes Money

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The lawyer for actress Jayne Mansfield's $600,000 estate says that partly because of expensive litigation creditors are likely to receive only a portion of what they claim.

Irwin Boscoe, the estate attorney, said Monday creditors would be lucky to get 30 per cent.

Miss Mansfield and her then lawyer, Samuel S. Brody, were killed in a 1967 traffic accident in New Orleans.

placed under "Panther protection" at a villa where the couple lived in exile.

The tape said, "If you think that by turning in, turning on and dropping out that you're improving society, you're wrong. You're destroying your own brain and strengthening the enemy. They want robots."

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Robert Hilliard, 52, lyricist who wrote the words for "Dear Hearts and Gentle People" and dozens of other top tunes, died Monday of a heart attack. Hilliard, who owned a record and publishing company, also did the lyrics for the Broadway musical, "Hazel Flagg."

PRAGUE (AP) — Lt. Gen. Alexander Mucha, 51, deputy defense minister of Czechoslovakia, died Sunday in an auto accident.

MASTIC BEACH, N.Y. (AP) — Ethel Casey, 49, actress who had played leading stage roles in the United States and abroad, died Saturday after a long illness. She appeared with the American Repertory Theatre in a 1961 tour of 26 European cities. In private life, she was Mrs. Warner Schreiner.

Egypt Talks About Resuming Hostilities

By JOSEPH E. DYNAN
Associated Press Writer

CAIRO (AP) — The Egyptian government is undertaking a campaign to convince the world and its people that hostilities with Israel may resume along the Suez Canal Saturday after six months of silent guns.

Air raid sirens screamed and blackouts were ordered in the capital during the weekend. Leaders scheduled a series of meetings building up to a speech by President Anwar Sadat Thursday night at a special session of the National Assembly.

The Israeli-Egyptian-Jordanian cease-fire that began last August ends at midnight Friday.

The aim could be either to prod the Big Four—the United States, the Soviet Union, Britain and France—into putting more pressure for concessions on Israel or genuinely to prepare the population for renewed fighting.

Diplomatic efforts to get a formal extension of the cease-fire have been futile, and Egyptian spokesmen from Sadat down have said over and over that Egypt will not extend it unless U.N. envoy Gunnar V. Jarring reports progress in the indirect peace talks at U.N. headquarters.

Jarring met Monday at the United Nations with Ambassador Mohammed H. El-Zayyat of Egypt, who reportedly brought instructions from Cairo to reject Israel's latest proposals and offered counterproposals. El-Zayyat made no comment to news-

Connally Approved by Committee

By PEGGY SIMPSON
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee approved today 11 to 0 the nomination of former Gov. John B. Connally of Texas to be secretary of the Treasury, after testimony from Connally denying he wrongfully accepted private fees while governor.

Connally added that he gave up $400,000 to $500,000 in legal fees in order to become secretary of the Navy in 1961.

The vote came after no more than five minutes of closed-door discussion.

Connally in an open hearing immediately beforehand, denied he had violated the Texas constitution by taking $750,000 from a foundation as legal fees for executing the state of a wealthy oilman friend.

Committee Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., said he believed Connally's story Monday in the New York Times and other stories about Connally were indications that "someone would like to destroy this man if they could."

Sen. Fred R. Harris, D-Okla., abstained temporarily from the committee vote. He had asked Connally to produce the document by which Connally settled for $750,000 as co-executor of the Sid Richardson estate rather than taking his full one-third share of the fee which he estimated would have about $1.2 million.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson was not present for the vote.

Connally was before the committee in an open hearing for two hours.

men.

The mediator later handed El-Zayyat's memorandum to Yosef Tekeah, Israel's chief U.N. delegate, who told newsmen: "We received the Egyptian views on the situation and we submitted our response to Jordan and Lebanon. I leave to you to draw the conclusion that the exchange of views is continuing."

An Egyptian government spokesman confirmed Monday that several messages have been exchanged between U.S. Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Foreign Minister Mahmoud Riad during the past week.

But the spokesman said, "There is nothing concrete yet which could be a base for optimism."

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — NBC pulled out another two-hour pilot film—"Sam Hill, Who Killed the Mysterious Mr. Foster?"—for a trial run as one of its "World Premiere" broadcasts Monday night.

Since Westerns have been out of television style for the past couple of seasons, it is logical to assume they will be making a comeback soon. The feature was an effort in that direction but it seemed to waver between standard Western action and one of those rowdy, roistering shows with emphasis on comedy. As a result it fell with a dull thud between the two.

Ernest Borgnine played the title role, a slow-moving but canny deputy sheriff. He was running for election as sheriff—with a confidence man who had a hidden hoard of $10,000.

While Borgnine and company were meandering through the plot, Carol Burnett on CBS was having trouble finding something to do with Rita Hayworth in the actress' first variety show appearance.

The first effort was a sketch with Carol and Vicki Lawrence playing a couple of brash auto-graph hounds annoying superstar Rita in a Hollywood restaurant. Miss Hayworth had little to do except sit while the action swirled around her. She came off a little better in a later number with Carol in which she imitated Miss Burnett's charwoman character.

It was, all around, an off-night for the variety hour which usually has pretty high standards.

CBS says no decision has been made but speculation persists that the 23-year-old "Ed Sullivan Show" may be in its final season on the network. The report started when, on the heels of disappointing ratings, it became known that the warm weather months would be filled with Sullivan show reruns. In recent seasons, that time has been filled with a mixture of new shows and repeats.

CBS, with some heavy repair work to be done, is not expected to complete its 1971-72 schedule before mid-March. Usually all three networks aim for a mid-February deadline for the benefit of their sales staffs.

On NBC, the weakest program appears to be "The Don Knotts Show," which never got off the ground. ABC sloughed off its worst liabilities at midseason. It is still too early to gauge public reaction to such replacements as "The Smith Family," "The Pearl Bailey Show" and "Alias Smith and Jones."

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

HELP FOR THE "BOUNCED" — IT'S ALL IN THE BOOK

Dear Helen:
Several years ago I read in your column an answer that would help me now if I could tape it to my mirror. The letter was from a young girl who got dumped by her boy friend—who wasn't that great, just as my ex isn't either, but she was hurtin' bad and wondered how she could stop crying.

I know this isn't much to go on, but would you try to find it and re-print it? —ALSO HURTIN' BAD

Dear H.B.:
Here's a Q and A that might help. It's included in my new Grosset & Dunlap paperback, HELEN HELP US! now on the stands—as is also "everything (well, almost everything) you've always wanted to know about" the dating and mating game. Plus several of your favorites in the "What Is A?" series. (Just a little plug there—I couldn't resist!) —H.

Forthwith:
Dear Helen:
You're going to give me a big lecture about "puppy love," but it hurts just the same. I was going steady with this boy for two months, four and one half days.

Then I found out he didn't like me any more. Maybe it's the same old problem but when it happens to YOU it isn't the same at all. What can I do? —H-LOVER

Dear H-L:
No lecture, honey. It doesn't help to say, "You'll soon get over this," or "It isn't real" because right now your hurt is the real thing going and it's human nature to feel miserable when someone you counted on cools off.

What WILL help is a you-to-you pep talk. Be honest: Your pride took the biggest wallop not your heart. Deep down, you knew this couldn't last forever, but it's no fun being bounced. So stop with the lovelorn and rejected bit and get a little mad. Tears only irrigate self-pity, but if you can say to yourself (and finally mean) "Who does that big lunk think he is anyway?" you'll soon progress to a shrug—and another boy.

It shouldn't take over a week. —H.

P.S. Especially, "H.L." if you compare all HIS bad points to all YOUR good ones. At a time like this, it pays to feel superior.

Dear Helen:
As a tax consultant, I came across a new ruling that makes me wonder if the U.S. government is trying to promote unmarried live-ins.

Did you know that a young married couple—let's say college students—earning $2,000 a year each while in school (no deductions) will have to pay $350 in income tax, whereas if they were single, their tax bite would total only $60 each or $120 between them, one-third the amount owed the IRS if they filed a husband and wife joint return.

This blight to young love is part of a "reform" aimed at lightening the single person's burden, but it seems to have backfired. Couples in the low-income brackets are being penalized for making it legal, as they'll discover, come April 15th, if not before. —YOUR FRIENDLY NEIGHBORHOOD TAX MAN

Dear Readers:
It's true! FNTM happens to be MY tax consultant and in the way of mathematicians, he "proves" his figures four ways before he makes them public.

Seems to me the government discourages marriage on both ends of the spectrum: Students who work part time pay less tax single than wed; and Seniors reap more Social Security benefits if they are two "ones" rather than a legal twosome. —H.

First Draft Junking Stage in Congress

By JAMES PHILLIPS

Associated Press Writer WASHINGTON (AP) — The first stage of President Nixon's plan to junk the draft for an all-volunteer Army started its uncertain way through Congress with Senate Armed Service Committee hearings on extending the Selective Service law.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird was scheduled to defend President Nixon's request to keep the law alive another two years, instead of the usual four. The draft expires June 30.

The two-year extension was outlined last week by Nixon as part of his proposal to achieve an all-volunteer military by mid-1973.

"I anticipate that one of the hardest fought battles in this new session will be the extension of the Selective Service induction authority," said John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Armed Services Committee.

Nixon coupled his plea with a request for a $1.5 billion pay hike for servicemen in lower grades and changes making the draft law more equitable.

Stennis has stated that he is not against zero draft calls and an all-volunteer Army, in principle, but he calls proposals for an immediate death to the draft "a flight from reality ... impossible to achieve."

In a special message to Congress, Nixon said, "No one knows precisely when we can end conscription."

But, he said, "considerations of national security make it imperative that we continue induction authority at this time."

Nixon also called for draft law reforms to eliminate divinity-student exemptions and undergraduate-student deferments.

In addition, he said a uniform draft call should be established to ensure that men with the same draft number across the country have a relatively equal chance of being inducted.

Pennsylvania was the first state to have a macadam road.

Ducks Learn Way to Eat

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Four ducks who survived an oil slick in San Francisco Bay and a jet flight to the Philadelphia Zoo have learned a new way to eat.

The fowl—two surf scoters and two common scoters—are the only survivors of a shipment of 12 oil-coated birds who arrived here Jan. 24 to help the zoo research methods for cleaning and treating water birds who usually do not live after being soaked in oil spills.

Ordinarily they dive for their food, but there was no way the zoo could let the scoters do this and still give them the medication they need to survive the blanket of oil they picked up.

But after several days of force-feeding, the ducks learned a new trick.

"We fill a pan with about three inches of water in it," a zoo spokesman said. "We throw the fish in and pretty soon the ducks come over and eat them."

Junior Girls Win But the Kittens Lose

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Can't Nashville's junior girls take a hint? It doesn't look like it!

After getting bombed last Saturday by Hope in the finals of their own tournament, the Scrappettes came to Hope and were again defeated, this time by a count of 48-39.

Although the Kittycats were without guard Sharon Radliff, due to sickness, and lost Carol Frazier, the ramrod of the defensive three, in the third quarter on foul trouble, the defense held up very well with reserves Cathy McCorkle, and Cindy Whitaker, along with the other starter, Mona Rowe, carrying the load.

Now raising one of the better junior girls records in a few years to 13-5 for the season, the Kittycats will travel with the Bobkittens to Gordon Thursday for the last junior girls game before district.

Although falling behind early, the Kittycats gained the "never to be lost again" lead after Gigi Gladney and Coney Coleman both hit close jump shots for a 4-3, Hope lead.

With 2:43 left in the first period, and leading, 8-4, Jill Herring popped the net from the free throw circle, and five more points later on gave Hope a 15-7 margin, closing out the first quarter.

Although outscored 12-10 in the second period, the Kittycats still held a 25-19 halftime lead.

Taking the second period tipoff downtown, Gladney and Coleman quickly hit field goals and then Herring traded three charity shots with Nashville's Jennie Spigner, for a 23-14, Kittycat lead. The first half ended with Hope in front, 25-19. Trading ends of the court for the second half start, Hope took the ball first, but then neither team could get untracked until Herring hit a free throw with 4:43 left in the quarter.

With each Kittycat forward hitting two more points, the third period ended with Hope holding on to a 32-26 lead.

Gaining three more points onto the final score, the Kittycats watched the Scrappettes match almost point for point, but never really threaten to come back.

Gladney and Coleman led the last quarter charge and after Herring hit both charity throws with 16 seconds left, nothing else happened.

Gladney hit 23 points for the Kittycats, while Coleman sacked 14, and Herring hit 11 big points.

Moving to the second game, the Bobkittens didn't have as much luck as they fell to the Scrappettes, 36-32, in the final seconds of the game, to lower their record to 7-9.

Taking the tipoff, the Kittens could not score, and after Nashville hit a layup shot, Jimmy Smith pushed in a free throw. Points by Gary Rhodes and Smith then moved Hope out to an early 7-3 lead.

With 1:46 left, David Huddleston hit the last goal of the quarter as Hope took a 9-7 lead into the second period.

For the first five minutes, Hope could only hit two points as the Scrappettes took up a 13-11 lead. However, within a minute, Rhodes had matched Nashville, with three different field goals, before the Kittens finally fell behind at halftime, 19-17.

Moving into the third period now, only Bud Martin could hit the goal for the first two minutes, before Nashville started finding the range for their five points of the quarter. Two free throws by Rhodes left the Kittens trailing at the close of the third period,

Hope Teams Win 2 From Emmet

By RUSTY QUILLIN
Assistant Sports Writer

Last night the Hope Ladycats and the B Bruins took two games from the Eagles of Emmet by sizable margins.

Harris of Emmet got the ball bouncing in the girls game as she took the opening tipoff and went in on a layup for 2 easy points. But Dee Singleton of Hope hit 15 seconds after that to put everyone even again.

As the first quarter progressed, Emmet, with the fine shooting of Harris and Muldrew and also with great defensive ball handling by Dougen led 20-14 at the end of the first quarter.

In the 2nd quarter though, the Ladycats came right back with 6 straight points by Dee Singleton to show that they weren't ready to give in to anyone. And as the first half ended the Ladycats were in command by 1 point, with the score being Hope 32, Emmet 31.

The 3rd quarter turned out to be all Hope's as the Ladycats allowed Emmet only 4 points while Singleton and Janet McCain were tearing the net up. As the 3rd quarter ended Hope had jumped to a 47 to 36 lead.

The last period was one of little action because the Eagles were having to play catch up basketball while all Hope had to do was to hold their 11 point lead. Final score Hope 60, Emmet 50. Leading scorer for Emmet was Harris with 21 while Dee Singleton led Hope's scoring with 24-21.

Jumping for the last period tipoff, Hope started fighting back, and with 3:38 left, after Smith and Rhodes hit baskets, the Kittens had a 27-26 lead.

Although the score was tied twice more, Nashville took the lead back on Ricky Thompson's two free throws for the final outcome.

Rhodes and Smith led Hope with 12 points each, while Huddleston hit six, and Martin sank two.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset

34 points. In the boys game Hope just out powered the Eagles by having 4 men in double figures.

The game went slowly because of a lot of fouls and walking penalties. But Rodger Newton got Hope on the board first by sinking 2 charity shots, then Buddy Ingram hit from the corner with 2 more and a lead that would never be taken by the Eagles. As the first quarter ended Hope Bruins led the Eagles 16-9.

With Block of Emmet hitting on a jump shot and charity shot it looked as though Emmet may be ready to start something by with the controlled shooting of Danny Joyce. Hope started back up the ladder to victory. The first half ended Hope 35, Emmet 22.

With the fine rebounding and superb shooting of Rowland in the 3rd quarter Hope just kept on increasing their lead not to mention their skill as working as a team rather than one player.

At the end of the 3rd quarter score was Bruins 46, Eagles 35. Final period saw many substitutes for Hope while Emmet was still trying to get close to being a not so badly beaten team. As the final buzzer sounded Hope Bruins had won again with the score Hope 69, the Eagles of Emmet 58.

Leading scorer for Emmet, Block with 21 points while Danny Joyce and Bill Rowland tied with 16 points each to be leading scorers for Hope.

Perreault Closing in on Records

NEW YORK (AP) — Young Gil Perreault is only No. 19 in the National Hockey League scoring race—but he's quickly closing in on a No. 1 spot in the league record books.

The Buffalo Sabres' sensational rookie has compiled 43 points this season, 26 of them with goals. That puts him within eight of the record for goals scored by a rookie.

Nels Stewart of the Montreal Maroons scored 34 way back in the 1925-26 season and Danny Grant of Minnesota and Norm Ferguson of Oakland duplicated the feat in 1968-69. Perreault has 27 games in which to surpass them.

Northside Takes Over in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Fort Smith Northside moved into first place this week in The Associated Press high school basketball poll after defeating Little Rock Horace Mann 72-64 last week. Mann was previously ranked No. 1.

Hot Springs continued to hold down the No. 2 spot and Horace Mann dropped to third.

Tuckerman, undefeated in 26 games this year is ranked fourth, followed by Harrison, Blytheville and Cave City.

North Little Rock moved up from ninth to eighth and Rogers moved from 10th to ninth spot. Stamps moved in to round out the top ten.

Here are the results of the poll with first place votes and team records in parentheses and total points at right:

1. FS Northside (10) (14-1) 123

Trojan, Bruin Coaches Play Down Game

By DAN BERGER

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Southern California basketball Coach Bob Boyd and rival Coach John Wooden of UCLA are trying to play down the importance of Saturday's Pacific-8 game between their schools, even though it's the biggest game of the current collegiate season.

Both coaches used almost identical words, saying, "It's only the fifth game in a 14-game conference season." Both teams are 4-0 in the Pac-8.

But the intensity of Saturday night's game can't be denied. As both coaches confronted Southern California basketball writers Monday, each was hesitant about talking strategy, who would guard whom, or whether their players would be "up" for the game between the nation's second and third ranked teams.

But it's a big game: A local television station and three radio stations will broadcast it. It's already a 15,500 sellout at the Los Angeles Sports Arena—USC's "home" court.

Boyd and Wooden ducked newsmen's questions deftly.

Finally, Wooden confided, "USC has had a tendency to foul on the front line and that's where we're the strongest."

"However, I'm not approaching this game as I would if it were the only one against USC. We have to play them again March 13 in our last game and I feel that game may be more important than this one."

Boyd said his team was "very emotionally ready to play" but he seemed unconcerned about the ranking of his team as No. 2. "If we win and some other teams lose, the ranking is inevitable."

Both coaches finally agreed, though, the winner of this one game doesn't automatically win the tough Pac-8 conference.

"We're both going into Oregon country next week. Perhaps the winner of our game will get a lift and the loser will be down a little," Wooden said, "but if either team has what it takes, a loss shouldn't have that much effect."

Halas Is Not Yielding to Father Time

CHICAGO (AP) — George Halas, owner of the Chicago Bears, celebrated his 76th birthday Tuesday-hale and hearty, and as tough as ever in not yielding an inch in the game with Father Time.

In the last several years, Papa Bear has had delicate hip operations and gall bladder surgery. It was all successful, leaving him smiling into the future.

Halas, who retired as Bear Coach in 1968, has coached more winners—27 than any other coach, pro or college. Next to

Marquette Clings to First Place

By BRUCE LOWITT

Associated Press Sports Writer
Being No. 2 in The Associated Press collegiate basketball poll seems to be like life itself—temporary at best.

At the start of the season it was South Carolina. But the Gamecocks quickly slipped down the ladder, falling as far as 10th before moving up to seventh in Monday's poll.

They may not be there long. Duke belted South Carolina 82-71 Monday night.

Another former runner-up was Marquette, but the Warriors went in a different direction—up to No. 1 when front-runner UCLA was upset by Notre Dame.

Marquette retained its No. 1 ranking in the newest poll—but the second-best Uclans didn't. The Bruins, despite a 74-61 romp over UC Santa Barbara in their only game last week, fell to third, trading places with crosstown rival Southern California.

And the Trojans may not be No. 2 very long. A loss to UCLA next Saturday night in the first of the two annual neighborhood brawls could drop USC down a notch or two. And a victory—well...

Only four of the top 20 teams were in action. Another upset along with the South Carolina setback was Vanderbilt's 65-60 victory over 11th ranked Tennessee. In more conventional results, fifth-rated Kansas topped Kansas State 79-75 and No. 8 Kentucky walloped Auburn 114-76.

Idle among the top 10 teams were Marquette, which garnered 18 of the 33 first-place votes and 610 points; Southern Cal, with eight first-place votes and 584 points, and UCLA, with the remaining seven first-place votes and 558 points, 100 more than No. 4 Penn. Sixth-ranked Jacksonville, No. 9 Western Kentucky and No. 10 LaSalle also had Monday off.

Duke took the lead against the Gamecocks midway in the first half and, thanks to a stream of SC fouls and Blue Devil brilliance at the free throw line, never trailed again although South Carolina did manage to tie the game momentarily at 37-37 early in the second half.

John Roche of SC was the runaway top scorer with 28 points, but Duke won with a balanced attack headed by Richie O'Connor with 19 and Rick Katherman with 16.

Tennessee, dropping its first home game of the season, traded the lead with Vanderbilt through most of the first half before the Commodores went ahead to stay with 2:24 left in the opening session. Van Oliver led with winners with 17 but game honors went to Don Johnson of the Volunteers with 19.

Kansas couldn't break away from Kansas State until the final minutes when Dave Robisch hit several of his game-high 25 points to turn a 67-64 margin into a 72-64 lead. Steve Mitchell hit 22 for the losers.

Kentucky's perfect performance from the charity line and a 72 per cent shooting percentage enabled the Wildcats to build up a 25-point halftime margin against outclassed Auburn. The lead widened to as many as 39 in the second half. Tom Parker led the runaway with 27 points and Tom Payne added 23.

In other highlighted action, sophomore George McGinnis poured in 45 points as Indiana nipped Northern Illinois 113-112. New Orleans-Loyola rallied to down Oklahoma City 107-103. New Mexico State romped past Hardin-Simmons 75-57. Missouri rode Henry Smith's 30 points to a 63-55 victory over Oklahoma State and Alabama outlasted Mississippi 101-91.

Here are the Top Twenty college basketball teams with first-place votes in parentheses and total points on a 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8 etc. basis:

1. Marquette (18)	610
2. Southern Cal (8)	584
3. UCLA (7)	558
4. Penn	458
5. Kansas	393
6. Jacksonville	321
7. South Carolina	210
8. Kentucky	189
9. Western Kentucky	153
10. LaSalle	132
11. Tennessee	122
12. Notre Dame	117
13. Utah State	105
14. Duquesne	81
15. Illinois	75

Brooks Gets Athlete of Year Award

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — "This tops it all off," said Brooks Robinson. "It's got to be the most gratifying moment of my career."

The Baltimore Orioles' matchless third baseman, honored throughout the winter for his batting and fielding heroics in the 1970 World Series, received the crowning acknowledgment Monday night—the 21st annual Hickok Professional Athlete of the Year Award.

"I never thought I'd win it," said the 33-year-old Golden Glover. "It's all kind of unreal. I've been up to the Hickok dinner in Rochester as a co-host three of four times and always dreamed of winning. But, after watching Bobby Orr and George Blanda, along with others, having such great years, I resigned myself to going again as co-host."

Robinson, who batted .428 in the Series and destroyed the Cincinnati Reds with half a dozen spectacular fielding plays, beat out Blanda, Oakland's 43-year-old football marvel, and Orr, 23-year-old hockey superstar of the Boston Bruins, by a wide margin in the Hickok ballot of sports-writers and sports-casters.

"I'm glad he got it," Blanda said. "He deserved it. I thought I had a chance at it. But he was just great."

Robinson received 62 of the 146 first place votes in the balloting and a total of 238 points. Blanda had 19 first place votes and 140 points. Orr was third with 25 firsts and 110 points.

Robinson, baseball's 13th winner since the Hickok Award's inception in 1950, said he has no intention of stepping down, or slowing up, after his brilliant Series performance.

"They're going to have to wait a long time if they're looking for my position," he said. "I plan on being here for a while. I look forward to every season being my best, and I think '71 will be just so."

In line with that confidence, the balding Baltimore star will ask for a six-figure salary next week when he talks contract with Harry Dalton, the Orioles' front office chief. "I am sure we won't be far apart," he said. "I figure I'll be in the $100,000 bracket."

Following the top three vote-getters were Willis Reed of the National Basketball Association champion New York Knickerbockers; Johnny Bench, Cincinnati's slugger catcher; San Francisco 49ers quarterback John Brodie; heavyweight boxing champ Joe Frazier, jockey Willie Shoemaker; auto racing star Al Unser; golfer Jack Nicklaus and former heavyweight king Muhammad Ali.

Mrs. King Has Titles and Money

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Mrs. Billie Jean King held a pair of championships and top money today after a pair of come from behind victories Monday night in the climax of the Virginia Slims Invitational Tennis Tournament here.

Mrs. King captured the singles title and the $2,500 first prize with a 1-6, 7-6, 6-4 victory over Rosemary Casals.

Fishing Trip Fruitful in Atlantic Off Florida

Photograph by Doris M. Barnes & Betty J. Beardemphl

Charles W. Wilson and wife, Anna Laura, are in Florida and on January 24 chartered a fishing boat from Castaway Beach, North Miami Beach, Charlie writes, "the weather was beautiful but a little choppy. We caught a good number of fish of good food value such as Grouper's and Red Snapper. But the catch of the day was a 120 pound, eight foot Blue Marlin caught by my daughter, Elizabeth. She fought the fish 30 minutes and when she landed it she was completely exhausted and through fishing for the day. "Captain Spalding, owner and operator of the 48 foot boat, has been in the business 10 years and this is only the second Blue Marlin caught from his boat, so you see this really was some catch. Anyone back home wishing some good fishing see Captain Spalding.

"We will be home about the first of March for some fishing at Millwood but have to do some fishing in the Keys and on the Gulf side before we return."

Cavaliers Trade Best Player

By MICHAEL VERESPEJ
CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) —

When a team has won just 10 games in its first National Basketball Association season, you hardly expect the team's most experienced ballplayer and leading rebounder to be traded for a raw, untested rookie.

Yet, that's what the Cleveland Cavaliers did Monday when they traded seven-year veteran McCoy McLemore to the Milwaukee Bucks for 6-foot-9 Gary Freeman, the Buck's second pick in the upcoming college player draft and an undisclosed amount of cash.

Not only that, but Cavaliers Coach Bill Fitch doesn't even expect the Oregon State product to make much of a contribution in the remaining 24 contests.

"We made the trade for what Freeman could do for the club next season," Fitch said. "It's much too late for him to come here, learn the offense and make an important contribution this season. Anything he contributes will be a plus."

But the trade also insured the Cavaliers of another top draft choice, giving them a shot at five of the 44 best college players in the nation.

"I hate to leave Cleveland because Bill Fitch is beginning something very good here," he said, "but the Bucks can win the league championship and I feel I can contribute something very positive to their team."

McLemore has yet to talk with Bucks Coach Larry Costello, but felt that his role would be to give the Milwaukee team a strong rebounding and defensive forward down the stretch and in the playoffs.

Granatelli May Try Hand With Stock Cars

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Andy Granatelli, the portly oil additive king who has been a fixture in Indianapolis-type racing for 30 years, has decided to try his hand in stock car competition.

The head of the STP Corp. announced Monday he will enter a 1971 Plymouth on NAS-CAR's Grand National circuit with former stock car racing great Fred Lorenzen as the driver.

The team will race in the Feb. 14 Daytona 500 and some 20 other events on the South's big ovals—racing plants that Lorenzen knows like the back of his hand.

The car and Lorenzen and the crew were due in Daytona Beach today for first practice sessions leading up to qualifying Saturday for the Daytona 500 pole position. Because of Lorenzen's experience in driving the 2.5-mile Daytona International Speedway, he will be a strong favorite to gain the No. 1 starting spot.

Granatelli, whose book, "They Call Me Mr. 500," has sold almost a million copies, previously had limited his racing activities to the USAC championship trail for Indianapolis-type cars. Last year, however, he put Mario Andretti into a car for several international Grande Prix events and sent a team of drivers headed by Chris Amon to New Zealand for the Tasman series early this year.

Lorenzen retired from Ford's successful racing team in 1968 to have a stomach ulcer repaired, but returned for a few races last year at the wheel of a Ray Fox Dodge.

Now 35, the Elmhurst, Ill., resident has won more than $400,000 in prize money in Grand National racing.

Meantime, the speedway garage area was cleared Monday of cars that raced in the Daytona 24-hour event that ended Sunday. The facility was made ready to receive almost 150 stock cars that will participate in a series of races the next two weeks.

Dummit Is Stunned by Pro Draft

By DAN BERGER
Associated Press Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Dennis Dummit, UCLA's all-time leading passer, is still recovering from the shock of not being drafted by a pro football team, but he is aware of free agents who have made it—like Johnny Unitas and Joe Kapp.

"I was stunned that no one drafted me," said the 6-foot, 175-pound passer, "but I guess it's the same old story. People have always thought I was too small. Now I've got to prove they're wrong again."

In two seasons at UCLA, after two at Long Beach City College, Dummit surpassed Bob Waterfield and others by completing 289 passes in 552 attempts for 4,356 yards and 29 touchdowns. Last season, he passed for 2,393 yards, connected on 51 per cent of his passes and even ripped apart the Texas defense for 340 yards through the air. Texas had been rated No. 1 at the time and the Bruins, who led until there were 12 seconds left, finally lost the game 20-17.

"I know I can throw the ball," said Dummit, who recently turned down a Rhodes scholarship in anticipation of playing pro ball. "When I graduated high school they said I was too small and when I got out of junior college they said I was too small."

"But I have never been hurt in my life and I've taken some good shots...."

"Football has been my entire life for the last seven years. I've looked forward to doing nothing else but playing pro football. Now, I'm not so sure of what to do. I guess I could go the free agent route but free agents aren't usually given too

"And yet, each day I think more and more about it. I'm hoping some pro team will contact me but if that doesn't happen, I guess I'll sit down with team rosters and see which team needs a good quarterback. And then maybe try out as a free agent. Others have made it that way...."

Despite a rash of injuries this past season to almost every Bruin pass receiver, Dummit adjusted to new people week after week and passed the Bruins to triumph. Almost every time, UCLA rallied from behind with an aerial assault.

Dummit's coach at UCLA, Tommy Prothro, is now head man of the Los Angeles Rams. Will Dennis go to the Ram camp next season.

"I'm not sure how to look at the Ram situation. One way is that their coaches were my coaches at UCLA and I know I'd get a fair look. But if I do go and try out, it wouldn't be fair to Prothro. He might feel that if he keeps me it might be taken as if it were only because I played for him in college. I wouldn't want to put him in that situation."

Pacers and Rockets Make Trade

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indiana Pacers and the Denver Rockets of the American Basketball Association announced a two-for-two player trade Monday just before the league's midnight deadline for trades.

The Pacers, defending ABA champs, sent forward Art Becker and guard John Barnhill to the Rockets for forward Don Sidle and guard Wayne Chapman.

Pacer General Manager John Weissert said an undisclosed amount of money and a draft choice in 1972 went with Becker and Barnhill.

Alcindor Is Leading Pro Scorer

NEW YORK (AP) — Lew Alcindor may be No. 1 in the National Basketball Association scoring race—but, unlike teammate Oscar Robertson, he's still a long way from becoming No. 2.

Alcindor, the big Milwaukee center, is tops in scoring this season, according to NBA figures released today. His 31.9 per game average keeps him comfortably ahead of the two men tied for the runner-up spot at 28.8—Elvin Hayes of San Diego and John Havlicek of Boston.

Robertson, with an 18.8 average, isn't even second-best on the Bucks—Bob Dandridge is at 19.6—but the Big O, now in his 11th NBA season, is within 59 points of becoming the league's all-time No. 2 scorer.

The 32-year-old guard, with 22,984 points, will probably pass Los Angeles' injury-idled star, Elgin Baylor, to become the all-time runner-up to Wilt Chamberlain as the Bucks make a four-game West Coast swing this week.

While Alcindor still tops the NBA in scoring and field goal shooting, the latter with a .593 mark, Robertson is tops at the free throw line with an .865 average. Chamberlain is still the top rebounder with 19.3 a game and Norm Van Lier of Cincinnati continues as No. 1 in assists with a 10.2 average.

Stunned by Trade, May Just Retire

DETROIT (AP) — Stunned by the announcement he is being traded to the New York Rangers, veteran forward Bruce MacGregor of the Detroit Red Wings today is pondering retirement.

The 29-year-old right wing, who has been with Detroit longer than any other Red Wing except Gordie Howe and Alex Delvecchio, was traded to the Rangers Monday along with ex-Ranger Larry Brown in a five-player National Hockey League deal. In exchange the Wings got defensemen Arnie Brown and Mike Robitaille (Row-ba-tie) plus minor league center Tom Miller.

It was the third major trade by Detroit this season and the second since Ned Harkness vacated his coaching job to become general manager Jan. 9 replacing Sid Abel who resigned.

The Rangers play in Detroit Thursday night and MacGregor said he will know by then what his decision is.

South wasted no time going down at his six-spade contract. He won the diamond lead and cashed the ace and king of trumps. So far he had done nothing wrong. There was no way to pick up that trump queen and no reason not to play trumps as a starter.

Once the trumps failed to break, South went right after the clubs. East showed out on the third club, South remarked, "I guess I'm the unluckiest player in the world. Maybe the queen and jack of hearts will drop if I play the ace and king. If they don't, I'm down one trick."

North said, "I know I'm the unluckiest. It's too bad that you didn't use the Jacoby Transfer so that I could have played the slam."

Actually, it doesn't make any difference which hand plays the slam as long as declarer doesn't give up.

After cashing the two top spades, South should have played the last round of diamonds and thrown West in with the queen of trumps.

If West led a third diamond, South would make the hand with a ruff and discard. If West led a club, South would let the lead come around to his queen-10-five and score four club tricks. If West led a low heart, South would let it ride to his king. East would have to play the jack and West's queen would be a dead pigeon.

West could lead the queen of hearts if he were that good a player and South might go wrong, but at least South would have given the cards a chance.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

Fighting Back

Facists speak of turning the other cheek. Does the law call for that kind of forbearance? Or may you, when struck, lawfully strike back?

Generally speaking, you may indeed strike back. Your act of violence is forgiven if it is inflicted in your own protection. Courts often refer to the right of self defense as "a primary law of nature."

But it is a right with very distinct limits. Defending yourself is one thing; escalating the conflict is quite another. Take this case:

Janet and Marge were in love with the same man. During an argument, Janet began pulling Marge's hair. Marge retaliated by grabbing a pistol and shooting Janet in the leg. Could Marge justify her action as self defense?

No, ruled a court, because Marge had used considerably more force than the situation called for. When that happens, as one judge put it:

"The character of the combat is changed. The assaulted becomes the assailant."

Furthermore, the right of self defense lasts only as long as the danger lasts.

Suppose a schoolboy hits a passing pedestrian with a snowball. Could the man chase the boy and give him a thrashing in the name of self defense? No, because the danger is ended. The man's motive would be not to defend himself but to punish the boy.

Of course it may be difficult for the person attacked, in the heat of an encounter, to measure his danger. Therefore, the law usually gives him the benefit of the doubt.

In one case a grocer and his wife, taking home their cash receipts late at night, were accosted by a group of rowdies. When one youth laid hold of his wife, the frightened grocer shot and wounded him.

As it turned out, the victim had just wanted to ask for directions. Nevertheless, the grocer was held, not liable in court. The judge said self defense may be exercised not only when there is danger but also when there reasonably appears to be danger. And in this case, the danger did seem real.

Fight Crippling Effects Of Rheumatoid Arthritis

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

One of the common types of arthritis is rheumatoid, which is an inflammation of the joints. Another's osteoarthritis, which is caused by wear and tear. The principles of treatment are entirely different. Large doses of aspirin are used in rheumatoid arthritis to eliminate the inflammation and thereby protect the joints. Just enough aspirin to control the pain is a adequate in osteoarthritis.

Early and adequate treatment of rheumatoid arthritis often prevents serious crippling. This is why such patients should see their doctor early and follow his advice to the letter. Even this does not always suffice to prevent crippling.

Emotional upsets can aggravate arthritis, so it is important to avoid them if possible. This has to be kept in balance, however, because one person's illness cannot be allowed to be used as a tool to destroy the rest of the family's life.

Cortisone and related hormones are sometimes used in treatment but they are in effect only superaspirin and usually the disease returns as soon as the hormones are discontinued. Most authorities prefer to use them only as a last resort. The side effects of hormone therapy for arthritis limit their application.

Patients with rheumatoid arthritis should get plenty of rest—10 to 12 hours daily. This is particularly true during the periods of fever and inflammation. The rest helps to decrease or eliminate the inflammation. The inflamed joints should be rested, of course, but that does not mean left motionless. A joint left unmoved or in one position too much of the time is apt to become fixed and unusable.

Some physicians like to support a joint with a light half-cast or mold of the extremity to provide support during rest, then at frequent intervals remove the splint or cast and gently use the full range of the joint without putting any severe weight on it. A person should avoid putting a pillow under a sore knee and strive to rest in bed in a flat position, using only one pillow under the head.

A board should be placed at the feet against the bottoms of the feet to keep them in a normal position and prevent deformity of the ankle joint.

Of course, too much bed rest is bad, so the usual treatment is alternating rest and gentle activity during the day.

It is very important to regularly work at maintaining the full range of movement. Even in a very short time a joint can lose its range of motion and it is hard or impossible to correct.

In preventing deformities, good posture in standing and sitting are very important. The patient should sit in a straight-back chair and not slump.

Proper fitting shoes help to prevent deformities. Some doctors prescribe special shoes. At the least they should be a well-fitted, oxford-type shoe with a "straight last."

The little things in rheumatoid arthritis often make the difference between an active life and being an invalid.

Snowmobile Ordeal Is Related

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — "Life is real and, as I found out the other night, death is real and I think love is real. We experienced all three on the mountain."

Defensive tackle Paul Dickson of the pro football Minnesota Vikings used those words Monday to describe his experience as one of 17 snowmobilers lost in a violent snowstorm on Wyoming's Beartooth Mountain.

One of the group, Hugh D. Galusha Jr., did not survive the ordeal. The 51-year-old president of the Ninth Federal Reserve District in Minneapolis died about 6:45 a.m. Sunday.

The snowmobilers were forced to abandon their machines and strike out on foot. They split into three groups for the six-mile trek toward shelter. Dickson's group was composed of five persons, including Vikings teammate Jim Marshall and 15-year-old Bob Leviska Jr. of Minneapolis.

Dickson, who said the experience was "very easily the closest I've ever come to facing death," said he would still like to try the Rocky Mountain snowmobile trek again.

Marshall, who narrowly escaped death earlier Saturday when his snowmobile went over a 2,000-foot cliff, said he was convinced none of the group would survive the blizzard.

"We passed about three or four stages of total exhaustion before we finally decided after 12 hours we couldn't go any farther," he said.

The group stopped in an area where a grove of trees and a hill blocked the 80 miles-per-hour winds somewhat.

"Dickson took out his lighter and we started a fire with five one-dollar bills, some candy wrappers, my checkbook and billfold," Marshall related. Dickson added some $20 bills, along with tree boughs and pine cones, to keep the fire going.

The other two members in their group left Sunday morning to try to get help, Marshall said. About an hour before dark, he, Dickson and young Leviska decided to begin walking again. They walked about a mile before they met the search party sent to rescue them.

"I never worked so hard in my life to stay alive," Marshall said. "It reached a point where I thought it was virtually impossible to go on. Yet, I was able to catch my second, third and fourth wind and go on."

Marshall said he owed his survival primarily to "the lessons of determination and competition one learns in football."

Sponsor of Welfare Bill Is Angered

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. Virgil T. Fletcher of Benton, sponsor of a bill to limit Welfare Department regulation of child care facilities, was angered Monday by an anonymous "gift" on behalf of children.

The gift was a wreath of black carnations with a black ribbon and card, shaped like a gravestone, which said: "In memory of the children of Arkansas who cannot stand up and be counted."

The child care bill, approved by the Senate last week, would allow the Welfare Department to regulate only the facilities receiving state or federal aid.

Testifies Wing Tips Were Scrapped

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — William C. Wade, a former quality assurance representative for General Dynamics Corp., testified in U.S. District Court here Monday that at least 25 wing pivot support plates manufactured for the F111 fighter-bomber by Selb Manufacturing Co. of Walnut Ridge were scrapped in July of 1969 because they were defective.

Wade made the statement during the trial of James L. Townley of Hurst, Tex., one of seven persons charged with conspiring to sell defective parts for the F111. Townley is a former quality assurance inspector for General Dynamics, prime contractor for the F111 and is the only one of the seven on trial here in U.S. District Court.

Selb and two affiliated plants, Blades Manufacturing Co. of Rector and Aircraft Engineering Corp. of Pochahontas, manufactured parts for the F111.

James H. Davenport, an inspector for General Dynamics, testified Monday that "dimensionally bad" parts made for the F111 airplane by Selb were purchased by the Fort Worth plant under the authority of Townley.

Reagan Would Cut Welfare, Not Up Taxes

By BILL STALL
Associated Press Writer
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Gov. Ronald Reagan proposed today a spartan $6.74 billion state budget which avoids a tax increase mainly by slashing the rate of welfare spending by $700 million annually.

Reagan told the California Legislature that "something must be done, and done immediately" about soaring welfare and health care costs.

Proposed welfare spending in Reagan's budget totals $2.2 billion. The state's share would be $676.5 million—down $65.2 million from the current year.

The Republican governor's proposed 1971-72 budget, 2 per cent larger than the current one, cuts spending in many areas, holds the University of California to the current $337 million of state support and denies state workers the annual cost-of-living salary increases they have enjoyed for the past decade.

Reagan told the state's college and university faculty members they would have to spend more time teaching to handle a heavier classroom load.

Reagan predicted in an address to the Republican state convention Sunday the budget would bring "resistance and cries of anguish."

SEEKS NEW OSTEOPATHIC ACT

Editor-The-Star: "Early in this session of the legislature a bill will be introduced in both houses which could help alleviate the serious physician shortage in Arkansas, particularly in rural areas."

"The proposed legislation will create a new practice act for osteopathic physicians in line with 46 other States to replace the 68-year-old archaic law which has deterred members of my profession from locating in Arkansas. Previous attempts to change this law have been defeated due to opposition by the Arkansas Medical Society.

"The enclosed policy statement officially adopted by the Arkansas Medical Society is a small step in the right direction, but it is wholly inadequate from the standpoint of attracting well qualified osteopathic physicians to practice in Arkansas. This is the primary concern of the Arkansas Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons and the intent of our bill.

"Only a small percentage of osteopathic graduates are currently serving internships approved by the council on Medical Education of the American Medical Association. The vast majority, almost 90 percent, are serving internships in osteopathic hospitals approved for such training by the American Osteopathic Association, the recognized accrediting agency for osteopathic education.

"We do not object to abolishing the state board of osteopathic examiners if one D.O. (Doctor of Osteopathy) is added to the state board of medical examiners. In essence, new legislation must give osteopathic physicians the same rights, privileges and responsibilities accorded medical physicians, as is already being done in 46 other states and the District of Columbia.

"Arkansas ranks 46th in the nation in terms of physicians to 100,000 population. The national average is 132 physicians, MD and DO, per 100,000 people. Arkansas' is only 77. Since over 70 percent of the osteopathic profession is engaged in general practice with 27 percent in towns under 100,000 population and 31 percent in communities under 10,000 the practice habits of osteopathic physicians are ideally suited for Arkansas.

"Our undergraduate pre-medical education and four years of professional training plus 1 year of internship's comparable to medical education programs leading to the MD degree. We are recognized as an independent and complete school of medicine by the Federal government, public law, legal decisions and such agencies as the U.S. Office of Education and the National Commission of Accrediting.

"The seven osteopathic colleges, one of which is part of Michigan State University, and 275 osteopathic hospitals across the nation receive federal research and teaching grants and participate in all federal programs on an equal basis with our MD colleagues and institutions, including Medicare and Medicaid.

"In addition, osteopathic physicians are part of the doctor draft quotas and serve in the medical corps of the armed forces with the same rank and responsibilities as their MD counterparts.

"Arkansas, along with Louisiana, Mississippi and Montana are the only four states which still have laws restricting our practice to 10 percent of our training. Because of the law my profession must now practice under in Arkansas, there are only seven practicing DOs in the state.

"Because of the antiquated and restrictive law governing the practice of osteopathic medicine here in Arkansas and the fact that there are so few of my profession in the state, it is reasonable to assume that you are not too informed about my school of medicine.

"As an Arkansas newsmen, this letter is an open invitation for you to examine, investigate and scrutinize all aspects of osteopathic medicine. Unfortunately, it will be necessary for you to go outside the state to measure the true impact of my profession in the nation's health care system.

Thank You. Sincerely,
George Bean, D.O.
President
Arkansas Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons

REORGANIZATION

(From Page One)

Monday as some representatives tried to put off a vote on the 12 Senate amendments until later, ostensibly to give the House more time to study the changes made by the upper chamber.

The bill has passed both houses and needs only House concurrence in the Senate amendments before it is sent to Bumpers for his signature.

The governor considers the bill the "most vital" part of his legislative program and has said he will await final disposition of the measure before he reveals to the legislature what he will do on taxes.

Bumpers hopes to address a joint session of the legislature later this week and it is expected that he will disclose at that time tax proposals that he will present to raise more state revenue.

The House spent almost an hour Monday in a committee of the whole hearing an explanation from Charles D. Matthews, a Bumpers aide, on the reorganization bill, which would merge more than 60 state agencies into 13 principal departments. The explanation came at the end of more than 1 1/2 hours of parliamentary maneuvering.

Rep. W. F. Foster Sr. of England finally got the House to make the bill special business today.

The House defeated 37-55 a motion by Rep. Charles Honey of Prescott to send the bill to the House State Agencies Committee.

"We need to stop and think and look and listen," Honey said.

The principal argument for delaying action on the amendments was that the House needed more time to study the changes.

"I hope we can slow it (the bill) down long enough to look at it," said Rep. Frank Henslee of Pine Bluff.

Rep. John Miller of Melbourne said there was some feeling by the public that the legislature was going too fast and was not giving administration bills adequate study. He said there were indications the public thought the legislature was losing its independence.

But Rep. N. B. "Nap" Murphy of Hamburg said, "Let's get the bill back to the governor's office so he can go ahead with his program for this state."

The Senate approved the anti-parole bill, sponsored by Sen. Olen Hendrix, on a vote of 24-8 and sent the measure to the House. Under the measure, a convict who had obtained a commutation from a death sentence still could eventually get out of prison.

Sen. John F. "Mutt" Gibson of Dermott, speaking for the bill, said that after a commutation a convict would serve as though he had been originally sentenced to life in prison, rather than give the death penalty.

Under a life sentence, a convict is eligible for parole in 15 years, so a convict whose death sentence was commuted would be eligible for parole in 15 years unless a provision was established to prohibit parole, Gibson said.

A chief executive could, however, grant additional clemency by reducing a commuted death penalty to a term of years, rather than life. Under that arrangement, present law provides that parole is possible when one-third of the term of years has been served, Gibson said.

Hendrix's bill would require that they serve the full number of years to which they were sentenced before they could be released.

Consulting actuaries of the state employees retirement system drafted the public employees retirement bill, but it included some provisions that were not in the original proposal.

Current law provides that legislators shall not receive less than $100 per month in retirement benefits, but the amount of the actual benefits is $131 a month, said Sen. Q. Byrum Hurst of Hot Springs.

His bill would increase the minimum amount of benefits to about $162 per month for each retired legislator, he said.

Present law provides that constitutional officers are eligible for whatever retirement benefits are available to other officeholders within similar salary brackets.

The consumer protection bill would make the attorney general's office the public's advocate in consumer protection proceedings.

Under the bill, a person could complain of a business tactic by notifying the attorney general's office in writing. If action was warranted, the office would go to court seeking authority to enforce provisions of the bill.

"This will protect consumers without destroying the free enterprise system we are so proud of," Thornton said.

In other action, the Senate approved bills to:

—Limit the liability of a doctor performing a transplant or transfusion to his own negligence or misconduct.

—Tighten state securities laws in several respects.

—Require hotels, motels and apartment buildings of more than three floors to have emergency lighting and power systems.

Explosions to Be Set Off on Moon

By BILL STODOLN

AP Science Writer
SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Borrowing a technique from old geologists, Apollo 14 astronauts plan to set off explosives on the lunar crust in an effort to answer questions about the moon's interior that continue to puzzle scientists.

Alan B. Shepard Jr. and Edgar D. Mitchell will lay out three sensors at the Fra Mauro landing site then create 21 tiny moonquakes by firing treacher-size charges. They also will arm a mortar to lob grenades months after the space men return to earth.

The House approved 510 a resolution by Rep. John Beall of Des Arc that calls on the state Employment Security Division to refrain from raising employer contributions to unemployment insurance until it reduces the number of its employees by 25 per cent.

Bethell said he wanted to call attention to a "little bit of extravagance" in the ESD, which he said had 763 employees with a payroll of more than $7 million a year.

Rep. Gayle Windsor of Little Rock opposed the resolution, saying there was no correlation between the cost of administering the ESD and the employer contributions to unemployment insurance.

Are You Keeping Pace With History?

A newspaper is many things to many people, but for everyone it is a valuable textbook of history-in-the-making.

Many of the stories reported in the Hope Star today will be in history books tomorrow. How well are you keeping up? Check yourself by taking our weekly News Quiz, found today on Page 4. Answers are on Page 3.

The News Quiz is one of the VEC Instructional Materials that are sponsored by First National Bank, Hope Auto Company, Ladies Specialty Shop, Anderson-Frazier Insurance Agency and Hope Star as part of its Living Textbook Program for participating area schools.

There's a truism among Arkansans that goes like this: "The big print giveth and the little print taketh away."

Well, we're not out to mislead anyone about what we will do and what we won't do. We're as outspoken about what we don't cover as we are about what we do cover. So we don't use any small print in an Arkansas Blue Cross and Blue Shield membership contract. And because a good understanding makes good friends, we frequently urge our members to be familiar with the terms of their membership contract.

Naturally we don't expect that many of our members will dig out their contract and study it. People have a way of knowing which company they can trust and then counting on that company to do "the right thing". And most people know that Arkansas Blue Cross and Blue Shield is the closest regulated, best managed and most efficient plan for prepaying health care expenses.

Over 445,000 Arkansans depend on us to help them afford modern health care. We've never failed to live up to our promises and we never will! That's why our members know us as
